

Dr George Lee

Consultant Urological Surgeon,
Gleneagles Hospital, Kuala Lumpur

Dr Lee is a Consultant Urological Surgeon at Gleneagles Kuala Lumpur and Alpha Medical Centre. He is also a Clinical Associate Professor at Monash University, Sunway Campus.

- Completed his basic degree in Pharmacology from Cambridge University and his medical degree at Addenbrookes' Clinical School of Medicine in Cambridge. Obtained his Membership of the Royal College of Surgeons (MRCS) from The Royal College of Surgeons of England, Master of Arts from Cambridge University, Fellowship of the Royal College of Surgeons (FRCS) in Urology from The Royal College of Surgeons Edinburgh and his Fellowship of European Board of Urology (FEBU).
- 24 journal article publications and 4 book publications and counting.
- Examiner for London and South East Urological Training Scheme, Masters of surgery Coordinator Phase IIIA Medical Student examination at Universiti Malaya, Urology Specialist Trainee End of Year Exam at Selayang Hospital and external examiner for Edith Cowan University Diploma in Andrology and Men's Health.
- Active among Malaysian media and broadcast (radio, digital news and print).
- A kendo master who enjoys opera and classical music.

Dr. Loh Chit Sin

Consultant Urologist
Gleneagles Hospital, Kuala Lumpur

Dr Loh is a Consultant Urological Surgeon at Gleneagles Hospital Kuala Lumpur and the Director of Green Light Prostate Laser Centre. He is also a visiting Consultant Urological Surgeon at Prince Court Medical Centre, Kuala Lumpur and Kuala Lumpur Sports Medicine Centre.

- Qualified in Medicine (MB ChB) in Honours from Liverpool University in the United Kingdom in 1983; obtained his Fellowship in General Surgery (FRCS) from the Edinburg Royal College of Surgeon in 1987, awarded Doctor of Medicine (MD) by The University of Liverpool in 1996 and the Fellowship in Urology (FRCS) in 1997. Awarded the Intercollegiate Board Certificate in Urology (UK) in 1997 and a certified da Vinci® Console Surgeon since 2010.
- Trained in laparoscopic and retroperitoneoscopic renal and adrenal surgery, including nephrectomy, partial nephrectomy, adrenalectomy, pyeloplasty and laparoscopic.
- Professional interests include urological oncology, reconstructive urology, neuro-urology and female urology.
- Started the first Lose Dose rate Brachytherapy Program for prostate cancer in Malaysia; obtained his da Vinci console training in Robotics in August 2010 from the Chinese University of Hong Kong.
- Other interests include food and wines, Chinese teas, Chinese history, golf and classical music.

Dr Rattiya Cheewakriangkrai

Medical Oncologist, Hematologist and Internist,
Chiang Mai Ram Hospital, Thailand

Dr Cheewakriangkrai is a practising Medical Oncologist, Hematologist and Internist at Chiang Mai Ram Hospital, Thailand.

- First class honours Doctor of Medicine graduate and Graduate Diploma of Clinical Sciences (Internal Medicine) from Chiangmai University, attained fellowship in haematology and oncology from Mayo School of Graduate Medical Education and completed her Clinical Research Training Program in Center for Translational Science Activities (CTSA), Mayo Clinic in Rochester, U.S.A.
- Her clinical practice interests include thoracic oncology, gastrointestinal oncology, cancer survivorship, supportive care and palliative care for cancer patients, while her research interests are maximising supportive care and palliative care in cancer patients and cancer survivorship.
- Currently a member of the Thai Medical Council, Thai Royal College of Physician of Thailand, Thai Society of Medical Oncology, American College of Physicians—American Society of Internal Medicine, American Society of Clinical Oncology and American Society of Hematology.
- Was a Protocol physician and a researcher for the Research Institute of Health Sciences, Chiang Mai University, Thailand.
- Bachelor of Business Administration (General Management) degree holder.

Prof Dr Boris Hadaschik

Chairman and Professor of the Urology Department
University Hospital Essen, Germany

Prof Hadaschik is the chairman and professor of the Urology department at University Hospital Essen in Germany in addition to being the Vice Director of the West German Cancer Center. His main interest lies in the development of prostate cancer diagnostics and therapies that can improve and individualise cancer care and patient outcomes.

- Studied medicine in Heidelberg, Louisville, Detroit, and New Orleans; trained in Surgery and Urology in Heidelberg and Mainz. Awarded a post-doctoral research fellowship at the Vancouver Prostate Centre.
- Recipient of the Maximilian Nitze Prize, the highest scientific award of the German Urological Association.
- Co-founded the Ginsburg study group and is the principal investigator of the German multi-centre PROBASE trial.
- Published more than 300 journal articles.
- Master of Music degree holder.

Associate Professor Dr Melvin Chua Lee Kiang

Head of the Department for Head and Neck and Thoracic Cancers, Senior Consultant and Clinician-Scientist for the Division of Radiation Oncology and Director of Data and Computational Science Core, Singapore's National Cancer Centre

Dr Chua is the Head of the Department for Head and Neck and Thoracic Cancers, Senior Consultant and Clinician-Scientist for the Division of Radiation Oncology and Director of Data and Computational Science Core at Singapore's National Cancer Centre. He is also the Principal Investigator of the Tan Chin Tuan Laboratory of Optical Imaging, Photodynamic and Proton Beam Therapy–Precision Radiation Oncology Programme. Besides that, Dr Chua is an associate professor at Duke-NUS Medical School and a visiting professor at Zhongnan Hospital of Wuhan University.

- Graduated Bachelor for Medicine and Surgery (MBBS) from the National University of Singapore, completed Fellow of the Royal College of Radiologists (FRCR) examinations for Clinical Oncology, attained a Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) in Cancer & Radiation Biology from University College London and a Fellow of the Academy of Medicine Singapore (FAMS), The College of Radiation Oncology and Clinician Scientists, Singapore.
- Supported by the National Medical Research Council Clinician-Scientist Award.
- His main interests are to explore 'Big Data' science to develop risk stratification models for precision medicine strategies, to leverage on contemporary molecular genomics and sequencing techniques to derive novel biomarkers of tumour aggression and radio-resistance and to drive novel phase II and III clinical trials in nasopharyngeal and prostate cancers.
- 135 and counting peer-reviewed publications, was the lead principal investigator for 3 completed clinical trials and is currently the lead principal investigator for six ongoing clinical trials.
- Mentor of the American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO) Leadership Development Program.

Professor Dr Ong Teng Aik

Head of Department, Department of Surgery,
Faculty of Medicine, University of Malaya

Professor Dr Ong Teng Aik leads the Department of Surgery in the Faculty of Medicine of the University of Malaya. He is the current President of the Malaysian Urological Association and a board member of Société Internationale d'Urologie.

- Attained his Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery and Master of Surgery from the University of Malaya
- Awarded fellowship of Surgery and Urology from the Royal College of Surgeons of Ireland and fellowship of the European Board of Urology.
- His research interest includes illicit ketamine-related cystitis and its reversibility, dapoxetine and axitinib.
- Has more than 100 publications on topics including urology and prostate cancer.
- A frequent speaker and presenter at local and national events.