

Dr Akhil Chopra

Chairman and Professor of the Urology Department
University Hospital Essen, Germany

Dr Akhil Chopra is a Senior Specialist at OncoCare Cancer Centre of Mount Elizabeth Hospital, Singapore. He has a special interest in treating multiple cancer types including lung cancer, breast cancer, cancers of the stomach, colon, rectum, liver, prostate, kidney, testicular and bladder, gynaecological cancers such as ovarian and uterine/cervical cancers; as well as lymphomas and chronic leukaemia's/multiple myeloma.

- Completed his medical school training from Dehli University, India in 2001; American Board Certified in Internal Medicine, Hematology and Medical Oncology; Completed his fellowship training in Hematology and Medical Oncology from Hahnemann University Hospital/Drexel University College of Medicine in Philadelphia, USA.
- Has a special interest in the use of immunotherapy to treat cancers and has been a principal investigator for several clinical trials using immunotherapy agents in multiple tumour types.
- Has several publications covering his research work in the treatment of lung, prostate and kidney cancer.
- Has been involved in teaching medical students from the Lee Kong Chian School of Medicine as well as medical residents and students from Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore in USA.
- Has a passion for aviation and playing golf.

Dr George Lee

Consultant Urological Surgeon,
Gleneagles Hospital, Kuala Lumpur

Dr Lee is a Consultant Urological Surgeon at Gleneagles Kuala Lumpur and Alpha Medical Centre. He is also a Clinical Associate Professor at Monash University, Sunway Campus.

- Completed his basic degree in Pharmacology from Cambridge University and his medical degree at Addenbrookes' Clinical School of Medicine in Cambridge. Obtained his Membership of the Royal College of Surgeons (MRCS) from The Royal College of Surgeons of England, Master of Arts from Cambridge University, Fellowship of the Royal College of Surgeons (FRCS) in Urology from The Royal College of Surgeons Edinburgh and his Fellowship of European Board of Urology (FEBU).
- 24 journal article publications and 4 book publications and counting.
- Examiner for London and South East Urological Training Scheme, Masters of surgery Coordinator Phase IIIA Medical Student examination at Universiti Malaya, Urology Specialist Trainee End of Year Exam at Selayang Hospital and external examiner for Edith Cowan University Diploma in Andrology and Men's Health.
- Active among Malaysian media and broadcast (radio, digital news and print).
- A kendo master who enjoys opera and classical music.

Dr. Loh Chit Sin

Consultant Urologist
Gleneagles Hospital, Kuala Lumpur

Dr Loh is a Consultant Urological Surgeon at Gleneagles Hospital Kuala Lumpur and the Director of Green Light Prostate Laser Centre. He is also a visiting Consultant Urological Surgeon at Prince Court Medical Centre, Kuala Lumpur and Kuala Lumpur Sports Medicine Centre.

- Qualified in Medicine (MB ChB) in Honours from Liverpool University in the United Kingdom in 1983; obtained his Fellowship in General Surgery (FRCS) from the Edinburgh Royal College of Surgeon in 1987, awarded Doctor of Medicine (MD) by The University of Liverpool in 1996 and the Fellowship in Urology (FRCS) in 1997. Awarded the Intercollegiate Board Certificate in Urology (UK) in 1997 and a certified da Vinci® Console Surgeon since 2010.
- Trained in laparoscopic and retroperitoneoscopic renal and adrenal surgery, including nephrectomy, partial nephrectomy, adrenalectomy, pyeloplasty and laparoscopic.
- Professional interests include urological oncology, reconstructive urology, neuro-urology and female urology.
- Started the first Lose Dose rate Brachytherapy Program for prostate cancer in Malaysia; obtained his da Vinci console training in Robotics in August 2010 from the Chinese University of Hong Kong.
- Other interests include food and wines, Chinese teas, Chinese history, golf and classical music.

Dr Matthew Smith

Director of the Genitourinary Oncology Program,
Massachusetts General Hospital Cancer Centre; and Associate Professor of Medicine, Harvard Medical School

Dr Matthew Smith is the Director of the Genitourinary Oncology Program at Massachusetts General Hospital Cancer Centre and an Associate Professor of Medicine at Harvard Medical School. He is an internationally recognised expert in prostate cancer and has published extensively on the treatment and prevention of bone metastases and prostate cancer survivorship.

- Graduated summa cum laude from Canisius College with a Bachelor of Arts in Biochemistry in 1985.
- Received his MD and PhD degrees in Medicine and Molecular Biology from Duke University School of Medicine in 1992.
- Completed a fellowship in Medical Oncology at Dana Farber Cancer Institute and a postdoctoral fellowship at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.
- Authored more than 150 peer-reviewed articles including manuscripts in the New England Journal of Medicine, Journal of Clinical Oncology, Cancer, Journal of Clinical Endocrinology and Metabolism, and Clinical Cancer Research.
- His research is supported by competitive grants and awards from the National Institutes of Health, the Lance Armstrong Foundation Research Award, and the Prostate Cancer Foundation.

Dr Tan Teck Wei is a Consultant Urologist at Tan Tock Seng Hospital Singapore and the Designated Factory Doctor for Compressed Air Works in Singapore's Ministry of Manpower.

- Attained his Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery in 2005 and Master of Medicine in Surgery from the National University of Singapore.
- A reviewer of multiple medical journals who also authored many peer-reviewed articles in both local and international journals; has a keen interest in prostate cancer research and audit.
- A Clinical Senior Lecturer in the Department of Surgery of NUS Yong Loo Lin School of Medicine and a member of the Residency Advisory Committee Exit Examination Sub-committee.
- Received awards including the European Board of Urology Book Prize, College of Surgeons Gold Medal in Urology, Royal Colleges of Surgeons of England and British Association of Urological Surgeons (BAUS)-accredited Senior Clinical Fellowship for the Guy's Bladder Cancer Fellowship Programme at Guy's and St Thomas' NHS Foundation Trust, London, United Kingdom and the third prize for abstract presentation for Urofair 2019.
- Enjoys jogging, badminton and football; loves travelling, exploring new places and trying different cuisines.

Dr Tan Teck Wei

Consultant Urologist,
Tan Tock Seng Hospital Singapore

Dr Worapat Attawettayanon

Consultant Urological Surgeon
Prince of Songkla University;
Songklanagarind Hospital, Thailand

Dr Worapat Attawettayanon is an Assistant Professor at the Department of Surgery at Prince of Songkla University. He is an active researcher with a special interest in urologic cancer.

- Attained his Doctor of Medicine degree from Prince of Songkla University in 2008.
- Received his urosurgery training at Ramathibodi Hospital and became a member of the Royal College of Surgeon of Thailand in 2015.
- He is certified by the Thai Board of General Surgery, and the Thai Board of Urological Surgery, and serves on the scientific subcommittee of the Thai Urology Association.
- Spoken at various national conferences on urology.
- Authored many peer-reviewed articles on the subject in both local and international journals.